

AN AUTHENTICALLY ROMANTIC ALPINE BREAK FOR TWO, THIS VALENTINE'S DAY AT EL LODGE SKI & SPA

Sierra Nevada (Spain) - January 2018: Having been open for the Winter season since last December and with excellent ski conditions to date, El Lodge in Sierra Nevada is a truly romantic alpine destination. With unique activities in abundance for both on and off the slopes, the newly devised 'Love in the Mountains' package is ideal for active couples seeking a blast of fresh mountain air in stylish surroundings this Valentine's Day.

Located in the south of Spain (Granada), El Lodge is one of the most visited locations for experienced ski-goers. This Nordic-inspired boutique hotel has 20 rooms and suites, and the only outdoor pool and ski-in/ski-out terrace in Sierra Nevada, ensuring couples can fully immerse themselves in the spectacular mountain setting.

As part of the new selection of experiences offered to guests, couples can also opt to take part in guided star gazing. Due to its low population density and vast nature, there is no light pollution, giving guests the opportunity to observe the many planets and stars with astonishing clarity. Guests can also book the new 'Farewell to the Sun' activity, where they can enjoy a spectacular sunset at more than 3,000 meters whilst sharing a bottle of champagne.

Included in the Valentine's package for two is an overnight stay in one of the luxury hotel's deluxe rooms, a romantic dinner at The Grill and a couple's massage in the alpine spa. Perfect for couples wanting to unwind after a long day's skiing, each room is equipped with its own private hot tub. There is also an indoor and outdoor pool, hammam and Finnish Sauna, ensuring couples can leave feeling totally pampered.

Prices for the 'Love in the Mountains' package start from £1,400.

To book your stay, please contact: reservas@ellodge.com

A double deluxe room starts at £300, VAT and breakfast inclusive.
